

South and West Wales Amphibian and Reptile Group

Application for membership

South and West Wales Amphibian and Reptile Group (SWWARG) is an independent volunteer group that exists to promote the conservation of native amphibians and reptiles.

Membership of the group is £6 (Student/unwaged and retired £3) and this will be due for renewal annually from the 1st of the month that you join. Membership fees will be used directly for conservation purposes and essential expenses. At present we are only able to offer membership to over 18's.

Membership of SWWARG entitles you to:

1. Priority booking at SWWARG training events.
2. The opportunity to take part in SWWARG activities such as survey work and conservation tasks.
3. Insurance when involved in these activities.
4. A reduced registration fee at all ARG related conferences around the UK
5. Receive the latest news about the groups activities

New members from all backgrounds will be very welcome within the group, irrespective of knowledge and experience, and all members are encouraged to take an active part in running the group. Information will normally be distributed by e-mail.

I'd like to join SWWARG to help protect our amphibians and reptiles!
